

DeltaTrak, Morpheus and Marsh Collaborate to Offer Cargo Insurance

DeltaTrak, Morpheus.Network and Marsh have partnered to offer a cost-effective and efficient solution to help shippers obtain cargo insurance. This collaboration involves the integration of the companies' individual systems to provide per-load cargo insurance. Quotes are produced utilizing trusted data sources such as electronic bills of lading, purchase orders, the global container portal, the shipper's insurance history and trip data from DeltaTrak loggers.

The collaboration between DeltaTrak, Morpheus, and Marsh has resulted in a transformation of the cargo insurance space, helping shippers protect their cash flow, by quickly and easily obtaining cargo insurance and streamlining the claims process.

Benefits

- ✓ The ease offered by shopping for cargo insurance in a digital environment is certain to make a difference for any business. Using our platform, the entire process is completed in 30 seconds or less, generating an insurance certificate almost immediately. This seamless process allows shippers to acquire cargo insurance while avoiding the significant time investment sometimes required to obtain coverage through traditional insurance channels.
- ✓ While traditional cargo insurance requires an expensive annual policy, per-shipment cargo insurance allows shippers to obtain coverage only when typically needed. The ability to secure insurance on a transactional basis offers significant savings, contributing to a shipper's overall profitability.
- ✓ Marsh's insurance solution leverages individual shipping history and temperature monitoring data to provide the best rates and insuring conditions available. As a result, if a shipper has no history of claims, it can take advantage of discounted rates.

How it Works

To obtain an insurance quote, the user selects the device ID for the shipment to be insured, then completes the required fields on the "Request for Insurance Quote" page. A quote is immediately returned. Upon acceptance of the quote, the insurance certificate (in triplicate) will be available for download. Users can also access a complete list of all covered shipments, including certificates, on the DeltaTrak platform.
